Clean drinking water was made available.

Because increased government and citizens’ oversight prevented leakage of funds allocated for water supply.

Act against corruption. Improve access to safe drinking water.